The creation of a coding language, a passion project: Annotated Bibliography

“I Made My Own Programming Language” YouTube, uploaded by CodeNoodles, 10 February

2024, <https://youtu.be/XrnBtQq6OxM?si=nkibqYE0mnHxYOgi>

The author explains how he made a coding language. The source is distinctly relevant to my project because I am also making a coding language. The video served as inspiration as well as research on applicable strategies and methods to accomplish my task

“Making My Own Programming Language and Coding a Game With it” YouTube, uploaded by

AstroSam, 10 March 2022, https://youtu.be/JP9n5wHyemU?si=y4_qeMZmoxdTLVAw

The author explains how he makes his language and produces a clone of the game

“Pong.” The source is relevant because I would like to make a coding language. The video serves as inspiration as well as a small collection of tips and pointers

“LLVM in 100 seconds” YouTube, uploaded by Fireship, 23 May 2022,

<https://youtu.be/BT2Cv-Tjq7Q?si=s-psUT5tUq3TwGYg>

The video provides a brief history and a short tutorial on how to use LLVM, and intermittent coding language specifically built to make other coding languages. This is important to me as LLVM was the avenue I used to make my language. This was the video that convinced me to use LLVM.
